3-Day Trading Event for Forex

A Live in the Market Trading Experience

Course Description

This action-packed three-day trading event is the ultimate learning course for serious Forex traders looking to gain in-the-market experience. The course is limited to approximately 20 students and is taught by our elite team of instructors who provide quality one-on-one attention. Course includes multiple breakout sessions. Students will be provided with their own computer workstation and may use all of the Wizetrade software packages to trade live in the market during class. Students can elect to use the software package for practice (paper trading) with a demo account or with their real account using their broker of choice. Experience the excitement level as the trading frenzy grows while your fellow classmates make live trades throughout the workshop
