Are you watching this? Once again the day is off to great start,

When you're hot, you're hot. Right we are on a wild streak and today's mega play DRMC is just beginning to heat up. DRMC has already reached an early high of 0068 on big volume, representing a gain of over 25%...but that's just the start:

After a pullback DRMC has climbed all the way back to 0064 and looks as though it could be in the early stages of another run...

... and even more impressive is the CHART... the chart and its indicators are starting to look awesome!

Even Barchart loves it right now, giving it a "Buy" Opinion!
 See it here:

If hot indicators and trend reversals are your thing than I really hope you are watching DRMC today. The increased volume and high volatility has created many opportunities for DRMC.

Dips and rebounds. Dips and rebounds... a traders dream.

As I said a moment ago, as a write this email DRMC looks as though it could be starting another run... with the increase in volatility it may not need much to see it take off to higher levels.

In fact, as we speak it is running up close to the day's high.

These are exciting times, indeed. We'll be keeping a very close eye on DRMC over the next few days and into next week.

If you've yet to start researching DRMC, don't wait another moment. The company just recently made a major acquisition into a Multi-Bln Dlr market.

This situation could get Very Exciting Very Quickly!

Now that's something you don't see on the small markets everyday. So get researching immediately, feel free to start with yesterday's full profile:
